

Annex BProgress of Archaeological Projects conducted by the AMO between December 2006 and February 2007

Site	Project Duration	Development	Background	Project Director	Result
Cheung Shu Tan, Tai Po (大埔樟樹灘)	Rescue excavation conducted from Nov 06 to Mar 07 (5 months)	Road Improvement Project	The site was first identified by Mr. Au Ka-fat and Mo Zhi in 1999. Subsequently Ms. Liu Mao conducted field investigation for the proposed project and recommended rescue excavation for certain project areas in 2001. AMO conducted survey for the road entrance in November 2005. Rescue excavation programme for road project was reported to Members vide AAB Board Paper AAB/65/2005-06 and AAB/78/2005-.06.	Field Archaeology Unit of AMO	Prehistoric stone implements and pottery sherds were yielded from stable cultural deposits. The project will be completed in March 2007.
Tung Tau Tsuen, Yuen Long (元朗東頭村)	Archaeological survey in Dec 2006 (two weeks)	Electricity Supply Project	The site was first identified by Mr. Au ka-fat in 1997 and investigated by Mr. Mo Zhi in 1999. Field evaluation is to investigate archaeological potential of the affected areas prior to construction works.	Field Archaeology Unit of AMO	No cultural deposits could be identified in the affected areas.
Tai Kwai Wan, Cheung Chau (長洲大鬼灣)	Archaeological investigation in Jan 2007 (two weeks)	Leisure Facilities Improvement Project	The site was first recorded by the Hong Kong Archaeological Society in 1968. Abundant cultural remains of prehistoric and Tang dynasty were yielded by excavations in 1968, 1974, 1978 and 1987.	Field Archaeology Unit of AMO	Field evaluation confirmed archaeological potential of the project areas and recommended the project proponent to avoid obliteration of cultural deposits as far as possible.
Former Mountain Lodge (舊港督山頂別墅)	Archaeological investigation from late Jan to Mar 2007 (two months)	Peak Tourism District Enhancement Programme	The building was built in 1902 and demolished in 1946. Further details please refer to AAB Board Paper AAB/9/2007-08 to be presented at the AAB meeting on 6 March 2007.
