

The Cenotaph

Unveiling of the Cenotaph, Statue Square, 25 May 1923

The Cenotaph at Statue Square, with the Prince's Building and the Queen's Building in the background, c1925-1930

The Cenotaph and the Queen's Pier, c1925-1930

The Cenotaph in 1978 with the years “1939-1945” added to honour victims of the Second World War

Present view of the Cenotaph

Eight Chinese characters “英魂不朽 浩氣長存”, meaning “May their martyred souls be immortal, and their noble spirits endure”, corresponding to the inscription “The Glorious Dead” were carved on the side of the Cenotaph in 1981