Dear Catherine,

Thanks a lot indeed for your e-mail.

The proposal I sent you is now shown in the web

<http://icee.hku.hk/activities/HKU100exhibition/doc/20110316g-101/KPC.pdf> , and

<http://icee.hku.hk/activities/HKU100exhibition/doc/20110316e/KPC.pdf> in which people can see my earlier public talk on my initial proposal development and earlier model study video.

Since my proposal involves an integration of traditional Chinese core values based on "I Ching" and sundial design into architecture transformation of existing buildings, [ not demolition] which are uncommon in the architecture conversation practice, yet of very high integration value, I would like to present to the members of AAB more details, including showing and explaining physical building models of 1:1000 scale, and demonstrating the sundial effect and value using my innovative patented heliodons developed in HKU.

I am currently reinforcing the details of my proposals. So sometime in late August or early September would be a good time to make my presentation to AAB members.

Looking forward to your advice.

Best regards,
