Dear Sir/Madame,

I am a research student at the Department of Public and Social Administration at City University of Hong Kong.

I understand that there is public consultation on the grading of the West Wing of the Government Hill Offices. I am wondering whether there is public access to the comments and views submitted by the public during the public consultation. If there is public access, I would appreciate if you can let me know how they could be accessed - through your web site or by making a request in person at your office.

Looking forward to your reply.

Sincerely yours,
Holvert
